YEARBOOK

OF

EUREKA HIGH SCHOOL

EUREKA, MISSOURI

1952

Dedication

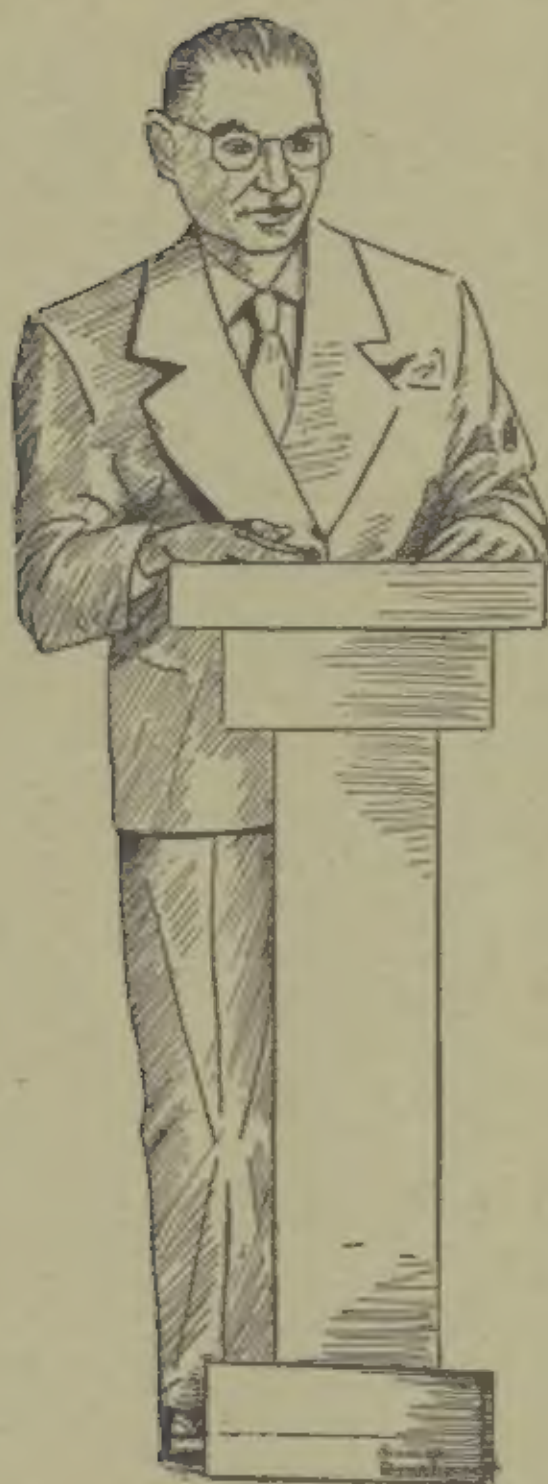

To the art of Drama this 1952 edition of the Eureka is sincerely dedicated,

High school life offers moments of high comedy and bitter tragedy, or so they seem at the time. Life of a teenager is one dramatic episode after another.

On this basis we have chosen drama as the theme of our yearbook, for where can the elements of drama be better expressed than in the presentation of a three-act play in the high school auditorium—the dramatic thrill of winning a tournament or basketball game—the heart-warming sensation produced by a song beautifully sung—the awed excitement of being crowned queen of the prom!

In our 1952 Eureka we have included the directors and the cast of students portrayed in their hours of study, excitement, and entertainment in this great drama—the Drama of E.H.S.

Our Directors

Faculty

The members of the faculty of Eureka High School are well qualified in their respective fields. They are aware of the broader scope of education, that of teaching democracy, cooperation, and preparing the student for living experiences. The addition of Vocational Agriculture and Industrial Arts courses has improved our offering to meet the needs of all the students. Our guidance director was added to help the students and faculty correlate their learning experiences.

A Message from

At this stage of our country's history, citizens, both young and old, should take stock of the moral fabric of the nation. So, we may determine if the basic moral principles, upon which our great nation was founded, are being neglected or being replaced by principles less noble than those of our early leaders.

The corruption recently revealed in government offices, high and low, has made it evident that the moral values of personal integrity, honesty, and self-discipline are seemingly being perverted. This shameless proffering and acceptance of bribes on the part of those from whom we expect the most honest dealings is evidence of the destruction of certain moral values. The much-publicized bribing of college athletes in order to manipulate the scores in athletic contests is but one more example of the prevalence of flagrant dishonesty.

Investigation of various persons who have given bribes for favors and privileges received from elected officials has left a stigma of which not only America but the entire world is aware.

the Administration

If this be true, then, there must be some cause. The effect of recent wars, the mounting complexity of government, the increasing amount of aimless leisure, the changing pattern of family life, and the inability of the church to cope with changing conditions have been offered as reasons. Whatever the cause, certain moral decisions of unprecedented variety must be made by the American people. In order that the right decisions be made, the schools of America must shoulder their share of responsibility. Our schools must help clarify the true values of American life and identify the moral values which help our nation become strong. Our teachers must discover new methods of teaching these values effectively.

It is my hope that through your experiences in Eureka High School, you have been able to receive some moral concepts which will enable you to keep steadfast in the path which leads to a happy, honorable and useful life.

Classes

The directors and producers of the 1952 Eureka are proud to present to you "Hi-School Daze," a delightful play featuring all the students of Eureka High School.

The first act of school "daze" is presented by the "Understudies," a cast of hard-working Freshmen who have already established themselves as future stars of Eureka High School.

The Sophomore, too proved to be an excellent group of "Supporting Players" in the second act of our dramatic interpretation of school life.

The third and final act is opened by the Juniors whose experience and initiative have fitted the members of the class for their roles as "Co-stars" in the drama of the school year at E. H. S.

The finale of Act III is highlighted by the "Stars of 1952," a splendid cast of Seniors.

Along with the pictures of our cast, we have included some dialogue from the play as heard in rehearsal in any E. H. S. classroom.

Act I

Freshmen — Our Understudies

Our Understudies, a cast of Freshmen, crossed the threshold of Eureka High with a firm determination to make the most of the opening act of Hi-School Daze. With this thought in mind they sped through the first act and have learned their lines so well that they are ready for Act II.

Not only did they show academic ability but also the ability to take an active part in music and sports. The "B" Basketball team has been outstanding through the efforts of some of the Freshmen players. Yes, they have done an excellent job in their roles as the Understudies in the drama of school life at Eureka High School

The Sophomores — "Supporting Cast"

The excellent job that the Sophomores have done as our Supporting Cast can not be over emphasized. They have proven themselves outstanding both scholastically and socially through their participation in curricular and extra-curricular activities; namely, athletics, band, music, and the other organizations.

They have taken their parts well as Sophomores, and we are sure that they are well prepared to take the rolls of co-stars in the next act of Hi-School Daze.

When the curtains parted on the opening of our "Hi-School Daze," Shirley Wideman and Terry Macalady were the leaders of our class. Beverly Bechtel, Harold Krueger, Terry Macalady, and Jim Slevin were our representatives on the Student Council.

Harold Krueger, Terry Macalady, Harry Caldwell, and Sammy King led our class as officers in our second year at E. H. S. We selected Marilyn Godar, Sandra May, Rodney Bell, and Harry Caldwell to carry out our wishes on the council. Beverly Bechtel represented our class among the maids at the Basketball Prom of that year.

This year we again elected fine leaders: Sammy King, Terry Macalady, Kathleen Kullmann, and Bill Strothkamp. Pat Mach, Dan Fridley, Sammy King, and Terry Macalady were elected to represent us in the Student Council.

Featured productions of the junior year were the junior play "It's a Great Life" and the Junior Prom. The committee, which was responsible for this lovely social occasion, contributed time and effort to the "glittering" climax of the year's social life.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

In September, 1948, three long years ago, the stars of '52 made their debut as scared little "Freshies" in the halls of E.H.S. We proved our ability as well as our versatility in our memorable "Hillbilly Assembly" and several of our boys were chosen for the "B" team. As the year progressed, we, under the leadership of our president Denny Robertson, gradually fit into the pattern of social and athletic events along with our regular academic life.

Everyone was glad to see school begin our Sophomore year, for we returned to the many new friends made our Freshman year. With Dave Butler as our leader, we decided to settle down and work, and our efforts were well rewarded by our large representation on the honor roll.

In the fall of 1950, cast as co-stars in the final acts of Hi-School Daze, we made our entrance. For the second time, Dave Butler was chosen as our class president and led us through a successful year. Our two main achievements of the year were our class play "Let Me Grow Up" and our colorful "Mardi Gras," our prom to honor Seniors.

Having confidently learned to pick up our cues, we waited with bated breath for our curtain call—curtain for the "Stars of '52" in closing scene of "Hi-School Daze."

SENIOR COMMITTEE

At the beginning of the school year, each Senior homeroom selects two capable students, a girl and a boy, to serve as homeroom representative on the Senior Committee. This all-important group makes many of the decisions and plans all activities of the Senior Class. Among the early duties of the group are the choice of the Commencement invitations and the selection of a motto, flowers, and colors for the class.

This year the eight members of the committee chose blue and white for the class colors, the white camellia as their flower, and "Thus Great Things From Small" as their motto.

The committee planned the Senior Hayride and Senior Day, occasions of notable pleasure in a Senior's life.

The committee helped to plan the numerous events of the commencement week and there as in other decisions, the group proved itself outstanding.

Our '52 Stars take a final bow as the curtain closes on "Hi-School Daze."

Student Council

One of the hardest working organizations at Eureka High School is the student council. The council sponsored three school parties during the year; the Hallowe'en party, a January party, and the Basketball Prom. Another important undertaking of the council is the supply store.

This year the council chose as its president, Trevor Hill, who accordingly is the president of the student body. The other officers include: Beverly Eschenbrenner, vice-president; Betty Wallach, secretary; and Joan McKinley, treasurer.

Each council member represents his home room and reports to it on the business of the council.

The council acts as a clearing house for student problems and in this capacity is the most important of our student organizations.

National Honor Society

This year marks the second anniversary of the Eureka Chapter of the National Honor Society.

Five per cent of the Junior class was eligible to be chosen to supply the nucleus for the coming year. The students chosen were: Beverly Eschenbrenner, Betty Wallach and Dona Deems

In January, another five per cent were chosen which consisted of: Christine Piel, Joan McKinley, Joan Grammer, Sharon Burford, and Trevor Hill.

Still, in the Spring of this year another ten per cent was chosen on the basis of character, scholarship, leadership, and service of the student.

The faculty selects the members of this group on the basis of their participation in the school activities and willingness to help when needed. They are not necessarily chosen for their high scholastic rating

Beverly Eschenbrenner was elected last year by the charter members to be president for this year. She headed the group through the entire school year until a new president was elected in May. The other officers were not chosen until the number of members was complete

Office Staff

The office staff consists of girls from the class in Advanced Secretarial Practice, which is under the direction of Miss McDowell. Miss Pounds and Mrs. Sides instruct the students in office routine.

Having adequately learned the details of typing and shorthand last year, these girls are quite capable of typing tests, taking letters, checking records and absences, running the mimeograph, working the adding machine and doing miscellaneous office work. The one hour a day that each girl works is a great help to Miss Pounds and Mrs. Sides and invaluable to the students who receive practical experience in their chosen field.

This is one of several service organizations in our school and one whose efforts are sincerely appreciated by all.

Girls Athletic Association

One of the popular girls organizations at Eureka High School is the G.A.A. a group of forty-nine girls all of whom strive during the year to merit the old English "E" awarded on Honor Day. Points toward an emblem, "E" or pin are earned by participation in sports, outstanding scholarship and attendance, along with many other activities of their "Hi-School Daze"

Officers for the year are Dale Bergmann, president Betty Wallach, vice-president, Shirley Koebel, secretary Mary Ann Wallach, treasurer Jean Gaehle was selected as point-manager for Seniors Shirley Hill for Juniors, Donna Hemann for Sophomores, and Jill Cerny for Freshmen

Library Staff

At the beginning of every school year, students who have shown interest in the library are asked to work as student librarians. Books are checked in and out during the day by these student helpers who also try to assist in the selection of interesting and suitable reading material. Since some of the students are unable to attend the library during class hours, it is necessary to keep the library open both in the morning and at noon. The librarians under the capable direction of Mrs. Stenerson have made the library facilities available to our high school students and by their efforts have contributed to the welfare of the student body.

The responsibility which these students assume is great; the care with which they check books in and out is responsible for the small number of books lost during the school year.

Eurekana

At the beginning of the school year, Beverly Eschenbrenner was selected as editor, and Jane Bazer was elected associate editor of the yearbook. Joan Grammer and Joan McKinley were elected business managers.

The first task of the newly elected staff was to select the theme of the publication. Having selected Drama as the theme, they began work on the Eurekana in earnest.

Soliciting advertisements to help finance the annual was the first assignment for the Publications class as a whole. The money from the sale of these advertisements helps defray the cost of the annual.

Norman Barnhouse and Delores Vehlewald, Art editors of the Eurekana, did a marvelous job as such.

Much work and preparation has gone into the making of the yearbook, and the editors and staff hope you will enjoy the product of their efforts, The 1952 Eurekana

Bugle

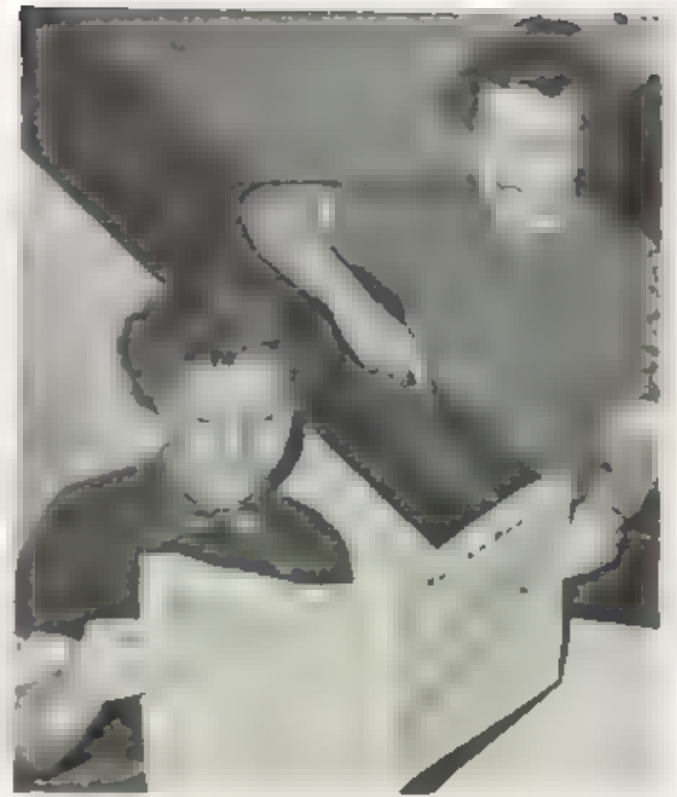

The Bugle, the monthly paper of Eureka High, is made possible through the efforts of the publication class.

Early in the year, Sharon Burford was elected editor of the Bugle, and Dona Deems, associate editor. They soon selected the staff and reporters for the newspaper.

Assignments of writing articles and reporting coming events were assigned early in the month by the editor, so that assignments could be completed by the deadline.

It is the practice of the Bugle staff to put out three special editions of the Bugle. They normally include the Christmas Bugle, which was, however, not distributed this year because of delays due to bad weather. The Valentine issue, which is dedicated to the sweethearts of E.H.S. and the May issue, featuring the Senior class, are the other special editions.

The Bugle serves as a medium for news broadcasting, in that copies are often mailed to friends of the school to acquaint them with coming events. So, in addition to the planned purpose of providing news and entertainment, the Bugle is also an excellent advertising medium.

Future Homemakers of America

The Eureka Chapter of Future Homemakers of America has been active now for five years. This year the twenty eight members have had their most active year.

The girls have regular monthly supper meetings, and in addition to the monthly meetings, they attended a Sub-District meeting held this year at Mehlville.

The motto of the F.H.A. is "Toward New Horizons"; the flower is the red rose; and the colors are red and white. The emblem represents the home of tomorrow in the hands of the youth today.

The officers of the F.H.A. are Wanda Forsythe, president; Kathryn Denton, vice-president; Lodelle Jaeger, secretary; Man'a King, treasurer; Norma Jean Day, historian; Elizabeth Schlager, reporter; Harriet Mertens, songleader; Shirley Hill, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Rose Shanight, Vocational Home Economics teacher at E. H. S., sponsors the Eureka Chapter of the Future Homemakers. The organization is national in scope.

Future Farmers of America

One of the newest and most active organizations in Eureka High School is a direct outgrowth of the new Vocational Agriculture department. The high school campus now includes a large Vocational Agriculture building built for this purpose. The F. F. A., organized at the start of the school year, works closely with the units in agriculture. The boys in this organization have meetings twice a month, discuss business, and plan amusements. The chapter has a basketball team which schedules games with eleven other chapters in this area.

The Eureka Chapter of this national secondary school organization chose for its officers: Jim Wallach, president; Larry Mertz, vice-president; Fred Gruenewald, secretary; Stanley Bonacker, treasurer; Richard Ponkauski, reporter; Dale Oetjen, sentinel. Under the leadership of Eldon G. Powell, the new organization enjoyed a very profitable year.

Junior Promenade

Feverishly the Juniors worked as the last days before the Prom neared. After it was all over, all agreed that it was well worth the effort.

Surrounded by the fragrance of cherry blossoms symbolic of ancient Japan, the whirling couples danced to the music of Al Judd's Band. Lifesize figures lent a realistic appearance to the oriental setting. A tiny wishing-well occupied the other corner of the gaily colored gym, as miniature lanterns furnished a warm glow.

Finally the climatic moment arrived! At 11 o'clock the beautiful queen was crowned. This Prom, one of the most enjoyable, will long be remembered by all who attended.

Athletics

Sports play an all-important role in the drama of "Hi-School Daze" and are perhaps in the limelight more than any other extra-curricular activities.

Basketball, baseball, and track are the main attractions of E.H.S. while between the major scenes, various intramural competitions are played. Among these are aerial darts, badminton, basketball, horseshoes, and volleyball. These, along with the major sports, do their share in developing good sportsmanship, a characteristic so necessary in the future drama of life; and in addition offer many moments of high drama to the spell-bound audiences.

Spotlight on Sports

Baseball Team

With the opening of school came the opening of the baseball season. This year Coach Buddemeyer began the season with only three lettermen from last year. They were Carl Glaser, Lester Bouzek, and Glenn Krieg.

The E. H. S. nine, with little practice, were shutout in the first two games before winning three in a row. They finished in fourth place, winning four and losing six.

Jim Wallach led the team in batting with a .391 average, Carl Glaser followed with .321, and Lester Bouzek with .292.

This year's lettermen are as follows: Bill Strothkamp, Vernon Lutterman, Jerry Hoehn, Sam King, Lester Bouzek, Bob Buddemeyer, Dan

Fridley, Glenn Krieg, Bob Forsythe, Jim Wallach, Terry Macalady, Leonard Vesper, Carl Glaser, and Albert Lewis.

"A" Basketball

One of the most exciting scenes in "Hi-School Daze" was basketball. This season the Wildcats went through their schedule of twenty-four games scoring twelve wins. In league games, the team won six and lost four of the games; while in non-league competition, they won eight and lost six.

David Butler led the team, scoring with 285 points, an average of 11.8 points per game. Kenneth Laughlin followed with a 9.9 average, and Vernon Lutterman averaged 9.1

"B" Basketball

The Eureka "B" team this year won only seven games of the twenty scheduled for them. Bob Buddemeyer was the only member of the "B" team with previous experience. He was also high point man with an average of seven points per game. The freshmen members of the team who will have a full year's experience behind them, should have a good team next year.

The "B" team participated in both the Pacific and Mehlville tournaments this year.

BASKETBALL SWEETHEART OF 1952

Music

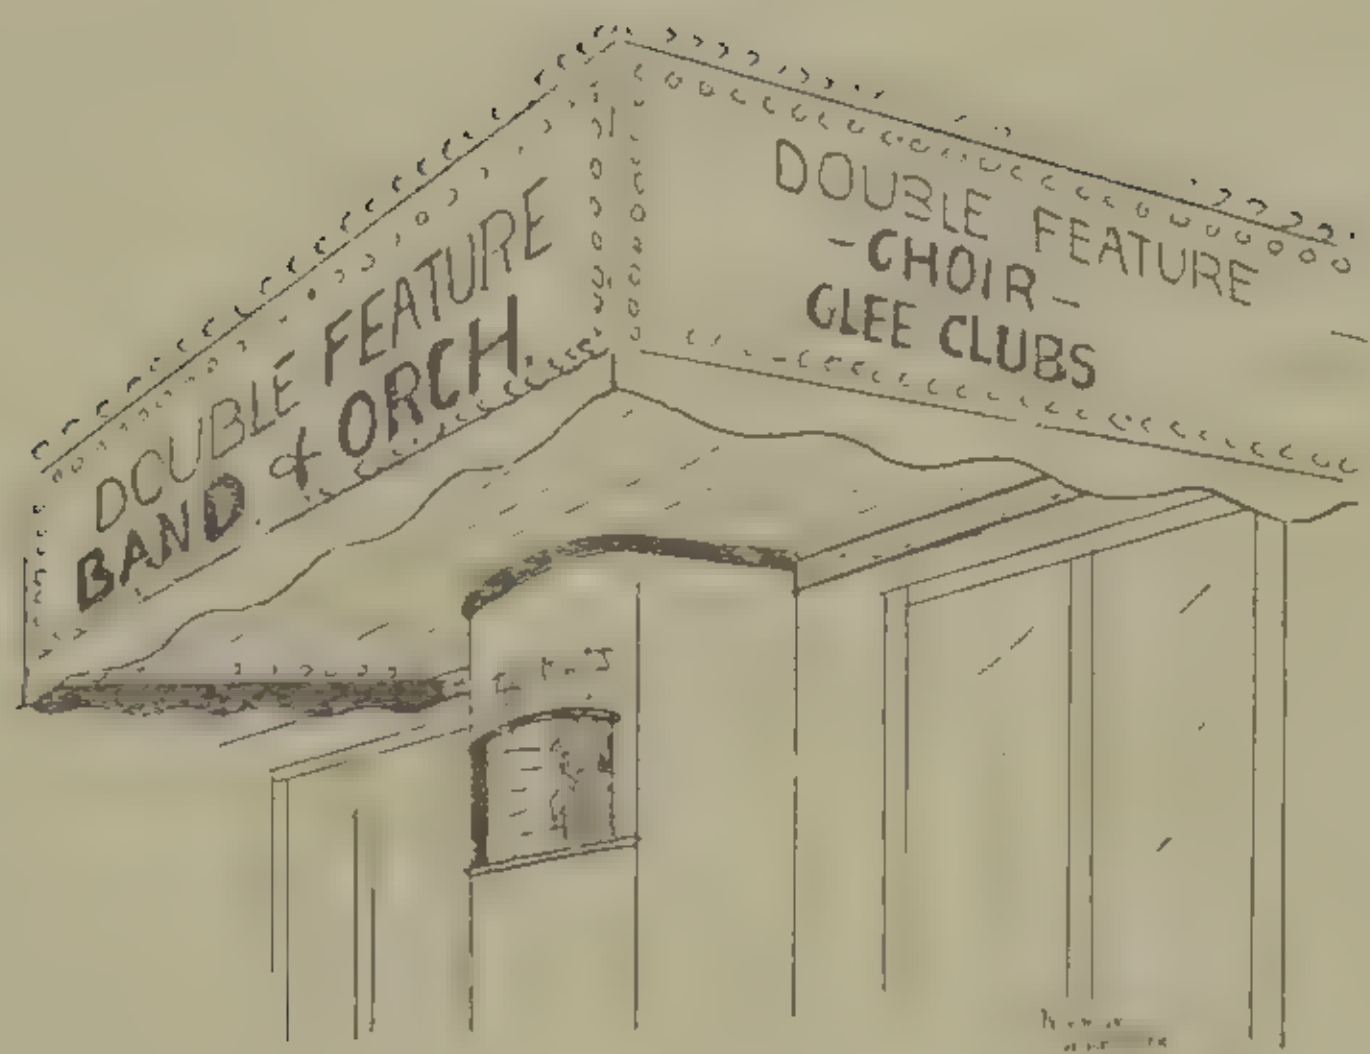

Between the acts of our drama of school life comes a musical interlude presented by the music department under the batons of Miss Harttman and Miss Evans.

The band, orchestra, choir, and glee clubs furnished fine entertainment both between the acts and as the main attractions of 1951-52.

Throughout the year, the choral groups took part in a number of enjoyable programs, the most important being the Spring Concert and the County Music Festival.

The instrumental groups, too, stole the show on several occasions—graduation, baccalaureate and the High School Review.

In Front of the Footlights

Beginning Glee Clubs

There are approximately one hundred twenty-five members in the three beginning Glee Clubs. These three groups which meet twice a week are under the direction of Miss Elaine Evans and Miss Marie Harttman.

The foreign songs, dances, and gay and colorful costumes of these groups added to the realism of their theme, "A Visit to Foreign Lands" in the Spring Concert.

This group has had a successful year and will do equally as well when the members take their places in the Advanced Music groups.

Advanced Girls Glee Club

The Advanced Girls Glee Club is under the direction of Miss Marie Harttman. The accompanist is Sharon Burford. This group is composed of fifty girls who sing in three-part harmony.

The Spring Concert which this year, was a two night performance was a success and the girls portion of the program, arranged by the girls themselves, was clever. The comical love scene, the clever dances, and the acrobatics which the girls worked into their theme of a "Charity Program" added to the blended voices of the girls.

As the Stars of '52 take a final bow, they wish to thank both the Advanced Girls' Glee Club and Miss Harttman for helping them to make their "Hi-School Daze" successful.

Choir

The forty-five members of the Advanced Choir are selected by individual tryouts. Much of the musical entertainment provided by E.H.S. is given by the group. School assemblies "star" the Choir, ready to perform whenever needed.

One of the main events of the year was the KWK Radio Station broadcast, "The High School Review." Of those who participated in the program, the students chose the Choir to sing in the Spring Festival at Kiel Auditorium in St. Louis.

The highlight of the year for the Advanced Choir was the Spring Concert. The Choir's contribution to the musical festival was an Indian pantomime featuring solo voices, choral groups and several Indian dances. The beauty of the musical selections, most of them old favorites of the audience, made the evening one of pleasant memories.

The Boys Glee Club

The Boys Glee Club composed of thirty-five members under the direction of Miss Marie Hartman has contributed to many of the presentations of the music department.

This group displays its talent in the Western Scene which the boys present as their contriadded to the Spring Concert. Its reason was brought about by such people as Chuck Wegman, father of western style, country guitars, and western songs.

Many of the members being under 25 years of age were anxious to continue the success of this group.

Band

The band, being one of the busiest organizations in the school, participated in many activities. Early in the year it was asked to participate in the Kirkwood Homecoming. On November 27, the group gave a concert at the Creve Coeur Farmers Club. The band has made the basketball games more enjoyable by playing for several home games. The band played a large part in the spring concert and presented a fine assembly.

Its officers, chosen at the beginning of school, proved to be fine leaders. They are: Dan Fridley, president; Henry Strieder, vice-president; Sharon Burford, secretary; and Bob Buddemeyer, treasurer.

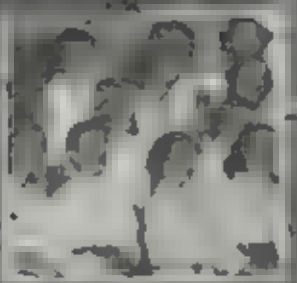

Miss Harttman and her group brought the year to a successful conclusion by taking part in the All-County Festival.

Dramatics

The spotlight now moves to Dramatics, the true exponent of our theme for this year.

Through the efforts of the members of the Dramatics department, many entertaining programs are presented throughout the year. Among these, the Junior and Senior plays, and the public presentation by the Dramatics are the major productions; but also important are the various assemblies prepared by the classes in the field of dramatics.

On the following pages we have focused the camera on the featured players and scenes on the stage at Eurkea High School.

Behind the Footlights

Senior Play

The Senior play, presented May 2, 1952, was entitled "Nine Girls." The action of the play took place in a sorority lodge in the mountains of California. When not concerned with murders and tragedy, the play was a frolicsome comedy, with a laugh breaking the spell of terror. The play lets the audience in early on the chief suspect, keeping a few paces ahead of the guilty person, secure in thinking her crime was unknown. The play came to an exciting and dramatic conclusion when the criminal was discovered and apprehended.

Directed by Miss Eleanor Johnson, the cast consisting of ten girls, did a fine job of acting in the presentation.

SENIOR PLAY CAST

Last Row: E. Valach, E. Diekmann, S. Koebel, J. McKinley

Middle Row: J. Grauer, B. Eschenbrenner, P. Loehr, Mrs. E. Johnson

November 16, 1951, was probably just an insignificant date in the minds of most people; but to the members of the Junior class it was a momentous event. For on that day fourteen members of their class shared the spotlight in the sparkling production of the farce comedy "It's a Great Life."

The plot revolves around the harum-scarum Peabody family, who, as George Peabody, the father, says are "all trying to row one boat in four different directions at the same time."

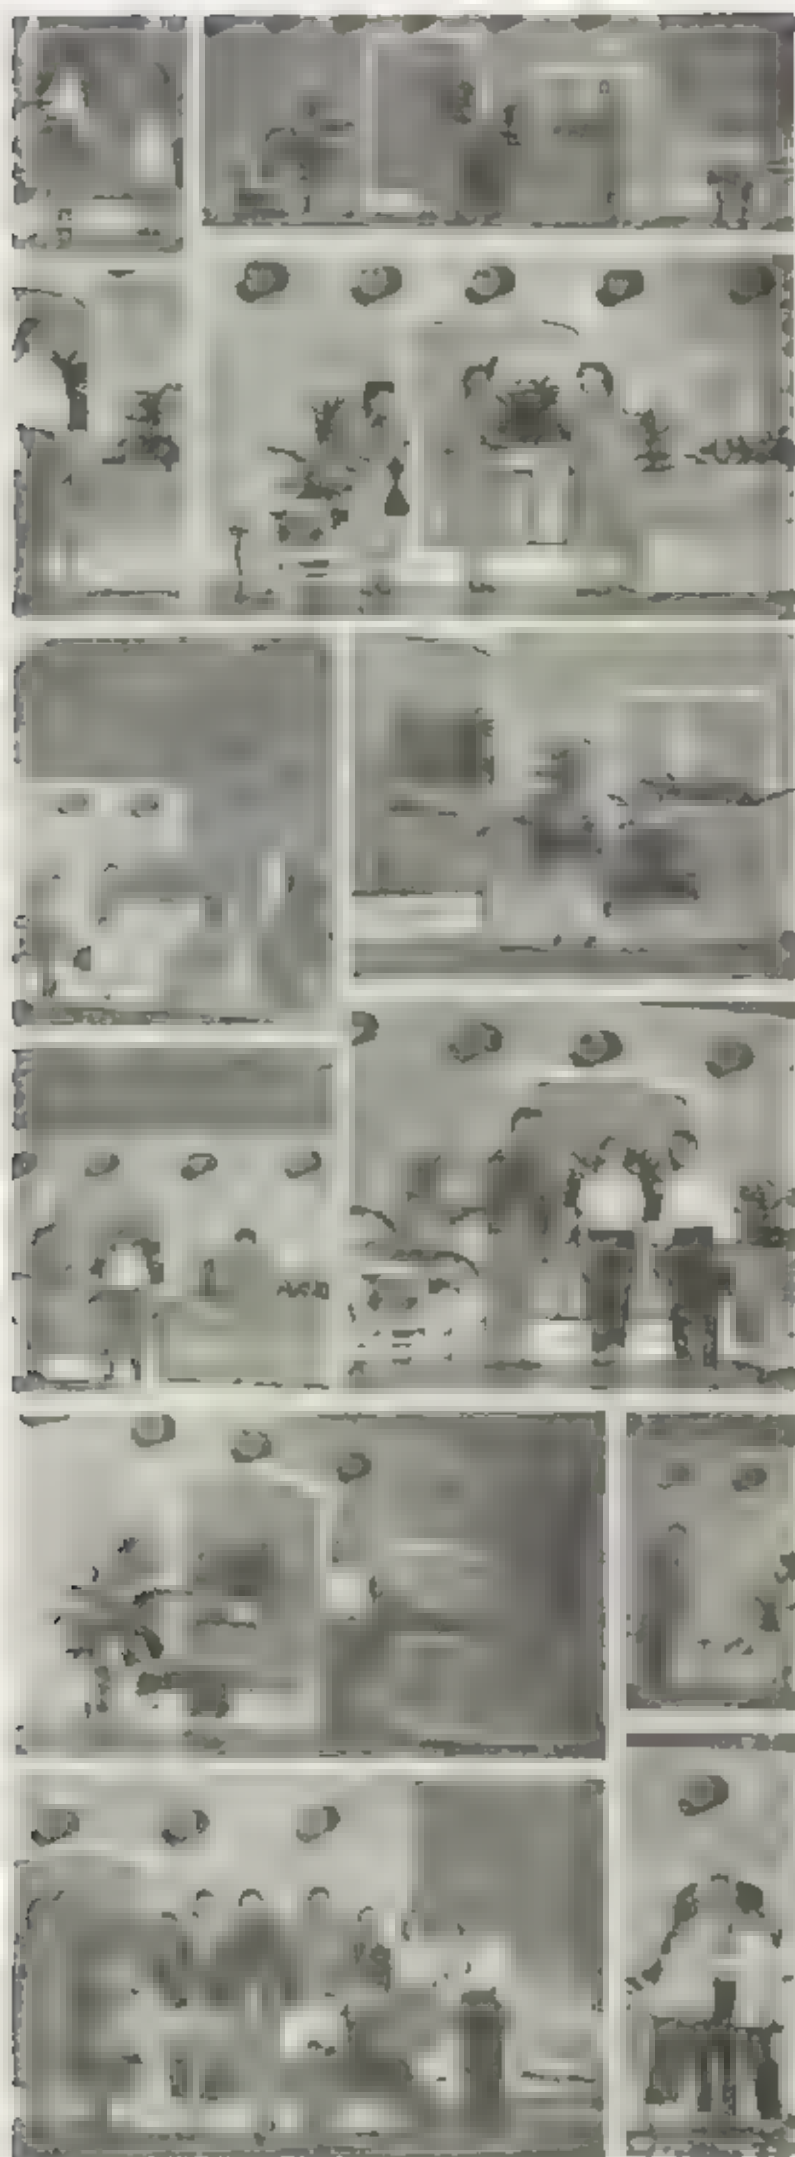

The results of daughter Jeanne's love affairs together with son Russell's indifference in studies but avid interest in trap drumming are just too much for Mr. Peabody; especially since Grace, his scatter-brained wife, knows and does next to nothing about managing the home.

To straighten out the family, therefore, he takes the advice of Dr. Appleby, his neighbor, and devises the "Peabody Plan." But even though the "Peabody plan" backfires after a series of hilarious mishaps, there is a delightful ending for all.

The outstanding performance given by all the members of the play together with Miss Eleanor Johnson's very patient and skillful direction contributed to the play's success.

JUNIOR PLAY CAST

Row 1: S. May, J. Burton, R. McGee, Miss Johnson, C. Overton
 Row 2: R. Reimers, K. Kullmann, H. Caldwell, J. Howald
 Row 3: T. Macalady, M. Godar, M. Glaser, D. Kelemetz
 Row 4: S. King, H. Strieder, D. Fridley, J. Cerny

One-Acts

The One-Acts, presented on March 27 by the Dramatics classes, were a major dramatic production of the school year. The entire program, under the capable direction of Miss Eleanor Johnson, was well accepted by the audience and proved to be a tremendous success.

The program included four one-act plays, the first of which was "Star Struck," a delightful farce about the life of a famous motion picture star. "Star Struck" featured an all girl cast as did "Ladies of the Mop," a hilarious comedy of rhyme and rhythm. The excellent cast of "Concert in the Park," a poignant tragedy, received many compliments from the audience. "Once a Sailor, Always a Sailor" cleverly taught a lesson in the art of getting a free dinner plus a date.

The program included four "Quickies," bits of drama, "It's a Small World," "A La Eugene O'Neill," "Just a Love Nest," and "The Initiation."

The One-Acts were a departure from the recent variety shows and provided an equally enjoyable form of entertainment.

April Showers

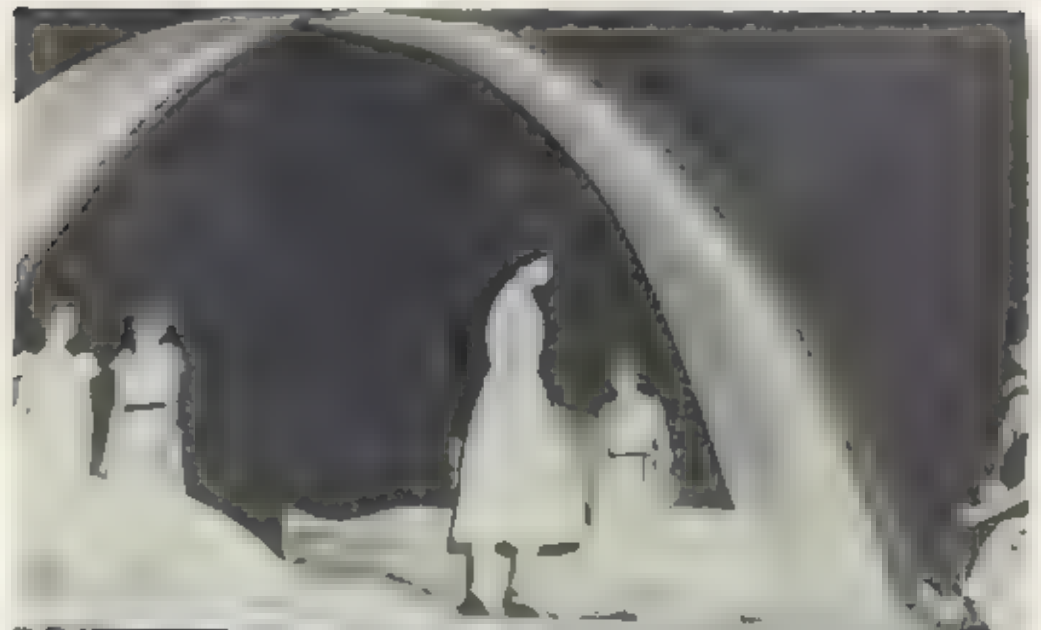

FASHION SHOW

The Home Economics Department presented its fifth annual fashion show on April 4, and it was hailed a tremendous success.

The theme, April Showers, was carried out in a beautiful rainbow setting. The stage featured an iridescent rainbow at the end of which was a pot of flowing gold. The black cyclorama furnished a background for the silver raindrops which hung gracefully from the ceiling.

The girls modeled an array of beautiful Spring dresses and suits which they made in their Home Economics classes under the supervision of Mrs. Shanight.

Music was furnished throughout the show by the Girls Glee Club and Miss Evans.

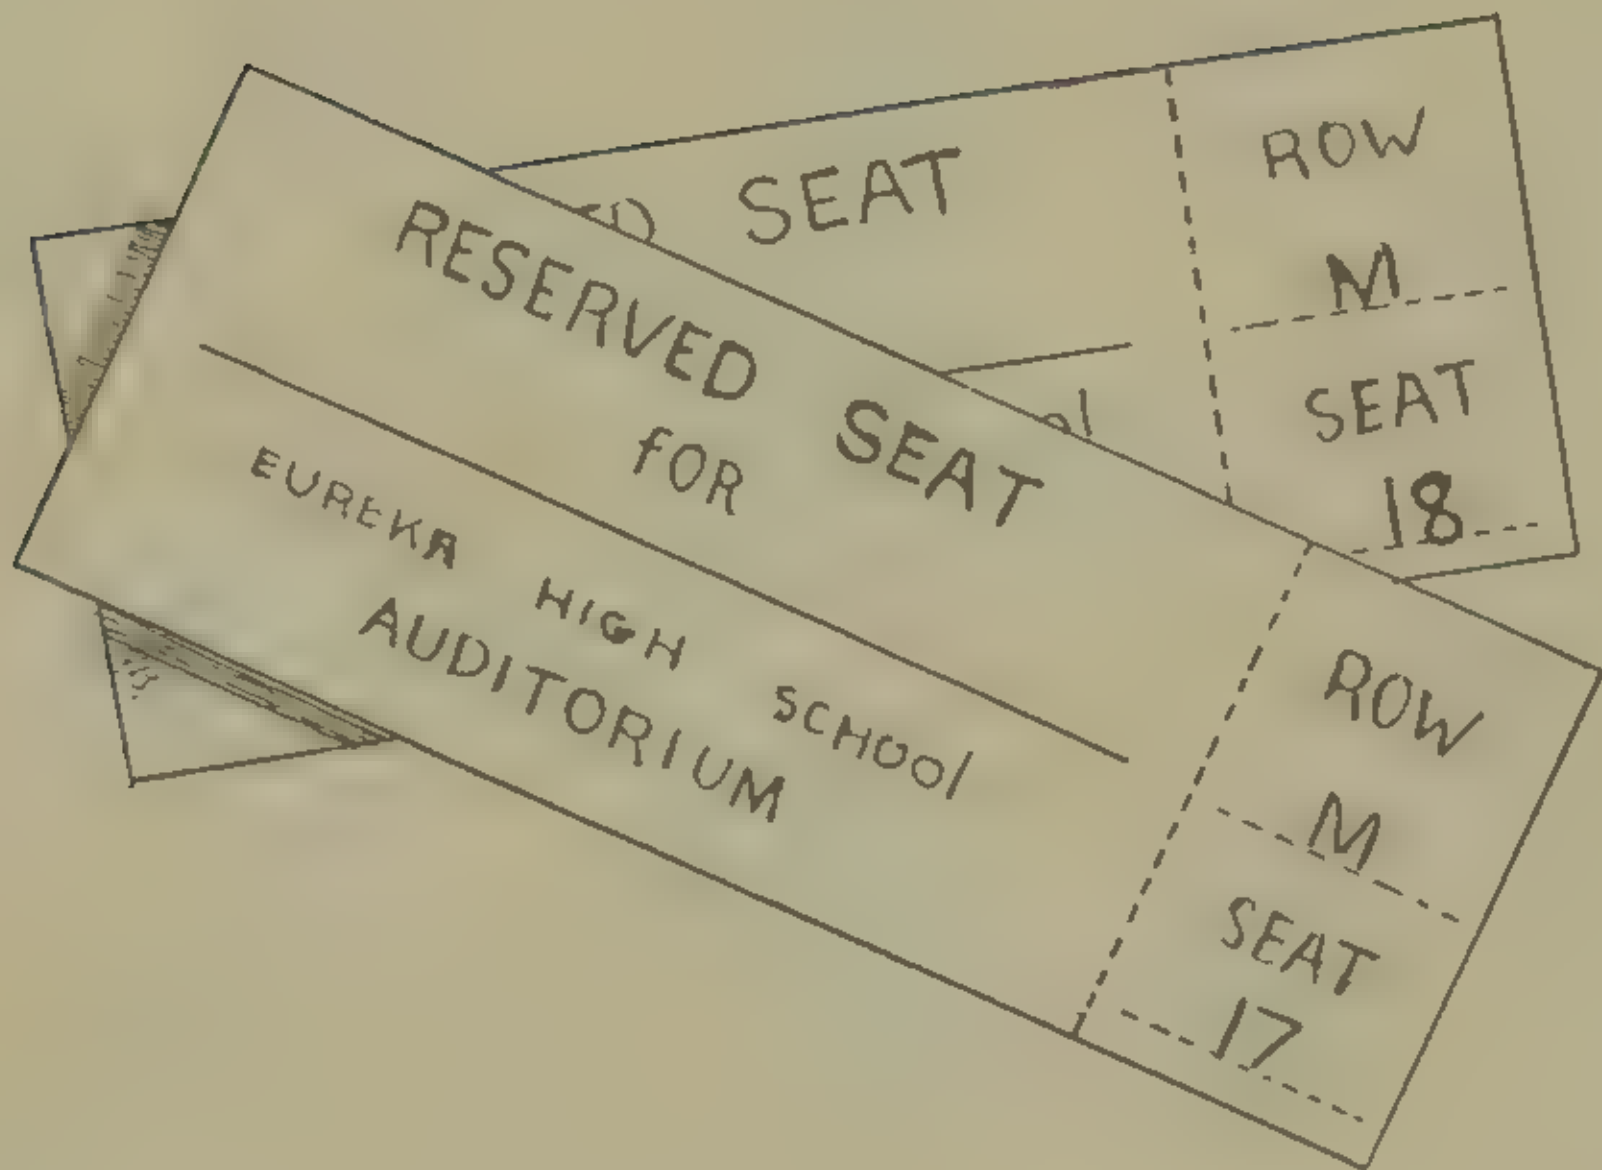

Features

For the finale, the camera turns to our features—the calendar, snapshots, and our advertisers.

We wish to express our gratitude to the advertisers who have helped to make possible the production of the 1952 Eureka. Our only method of expressing our appreciation more adequately is your patronage of our advertisers. The calendar and snapshots recall the humorous events which have enlivened the school year.
